Just believe in me

I can't comprehend what your lips are saying
It's as if we are stuck in a dream and I don't ever wanna leave
And it feels so fucking right
Where we are, what we've done, this time

Why can't you see all of the signs around you
Around you
Everything you know is not what it seems
Just believe me

Ohh!
Caution, caution this is not a test
This love we have, is waning in process
It's all over now, it's time to head home
There's nothing left to do
But watch the world come crashing down

Why is it so hard to realize this life isn't real
Wake up

Why can't you see all of the signs around you
Around you
Everything you know is not what it seems
Just believe me Just believe Ooh-h-h-h!

There's a fine line between my world, and reality
That's what you fail to see

Why can't you see all of the signs around you
Around you
Everything you know is not what it seems
Just believe me

Why can't you see all of the signs around you
Around you
OHH!
