Return home from the fray
Freedom is just a choice away
Reject and resist your fears and stay

Soothing now the pain has gone
Emptiness now, shame has crippled you
Darkness now, driving out the life
The will that once had driven you
You left it all, just stripped away
What was left of your view
So break away...

Nothing is real when you can't feel
Bleeding hearts you sever
Leaving behind, you live in your mind
Will this last forever?
Let yourself heal, light will reveal
What was lost, but never
Trust in the blind or give up your mind
And resist surrender

Gaze into the eyes of a friend
Someone that I had once thought I knew
But you've gone, gone astray
Now this plague is killing you

Release yourself from this hell
Your body is your prison cell
Awake, wake from the daze
Seizing the day
Breaking from friction and misery
Live, shedding the skin
Of your own sin
No one should ever live like this

Return home from the fray (From the fray)
Freedom is just a choice away (Choice away)
Reject and resist your fears and stay (And stay)
