Tired and burned out, broken in half
We keep pretending, having a laugh
Unity dissolved, beautifully staged
We keep pretending, everything's great

This could be only momentary
I'm just a little worried
This could be it, this could be it!

Bottled up safely, image intact
We keep pretending, turning our backs
Honesty pending, living a lie
We keep pretending, everything's fine

This is my way of saying sorry
It's not the right way but all I got
This is my way of saying sorry
But I'm afraid the fun just stopped
