"Through The City"

I walk alone on quiet city streets
I like 'em better when the city sleeps
When there's no one there to bother me
I walk through emptiness on the dragging feet

Through the city trying to forget
Only way I ever really deal with it

Through the city tonight,
As I go home
Through the city tonight,
I walk alone
Through the city tonight,
Thinking about her

I walk on quiet nights in falling rain
Suits me better than the sunny days
When there's no one here
To heal the pain
I walk though feelings going down the drain

Through the city
Waiting for the dawn
Come tomorrow it'll all be gone
Through the city trying to forget
Only way I ever really deal with it
