"Imposter"

Promise me this
If I die before I complete the dream
That you will become me
Not physically
But take this life of mine and fly

And also this
To the loved ones that scattered
I couldn't be prouder of them or
The things they've achieved
Because you would've never heard that
Come from me

Be my imposter
If you're my incarnate other
If you will

Take it from me
There's things that I've seen
And things that I've learned
How to let life run it's course
Like how it's captivating
This life's underrated
It's the one thing we have in common
