Ust drive, we'll tear up the streets
There's no apologies
The night's always young when we're careless and free
Cuz thoughts are so reckless and calm

We don't owe anyone
We don't owe anyone

This is the last night to prove we're alive
These are the nights that define what we're made of
The sun's burning this night skyline
These are the nights that define what we're made of

The journey has taken it's toll
And left us so far from home
And now we must live with the choices we've made
There isn't time for the faint of heart (faint of heart)
Nothing is out of reach
It's just so hard to see
This is the last night to prove we're alive
These are the nights that define what we're made of
The sun's burning this night skyline
These are the nights that define what were made of

It's time to stop sleeping
Morning calls for us to WAKE UP! WAKE UP!
It's time to stop and take a chance
Call the boys out to fight, and the girls to dance
WAKE UP! As the morning just calls again

The silence still makes a sound
Take a deep breath
It's never too late to start again
Our shadows consume this town
We're all that's left
We will decide our fate

This is the last night to prove we're alive
These are the nights that define what were made of
The sun's burning the night skyline
These are the nights that define what were made of

It's time to stop sleeping
Morning calls for us to WAKE UP! WAKE Up!
It's time to stop and take a chance
Call the boys out to fight, and the girls to dance
WAKE UP! As the morning calls again
