[Intro]** Eh yo, you ever feel like you have a gift, A special talent you're passionate about, which no one can take from you And all you ever want, is a chance to use it to the fullest But for whatever reason, it hasn't happened yet (huh) [Verse 1]** This is getting serious man, I'm desperate and broke Overworking myself, I need to rest but I don't And the future of my life and rap profession's a joke The size of my wallet has got me questioning both Like never before I'm second guessing my hunch Thought I could rap with the best of em', Now I'm stressing a bunch Putting holes in the wall, with this left-handed punch I can't even take my girl out to breakfast or lunch Too many bills to pay, my cheques ain't enough Everthing's being sucked as the debt piles up Now I'm thinking of stuff that might get me in cuffs Starting to not give a ffff, "G I'm set to erupt!" Pray to God I won't be singing these songs to myself How the hell will I ever buy my Mom's a house This is real life, this is a call for help I'm doing all I can, I can't do it all by myself [Chorus: 2X]** I will fulfill my Potential I will fulfill my Potential ( Yes ) I will fulfill my Potential ( Watch ) I will fulfill my Potential [Verse 2]** Giving up so much for my few moments of glory But they're what I look forward to man, I'm not sorry So surely, y'all understand it ain't personal The love that I receive, I feel that I do deserve it yo We all have a dream, I'm trying to live mine I've given time to it everyday, since I've been Nine And I've had several visions I saw in the past Actually come true since I started to rap That go way beyond the music, into others lives As you hit them in the heart and stimulate their minds So when this starts to happen, you realize There ain't nothing that compares to how you feel now inside I've devoted my life, to holding the mic Cuz' I know that it might, just help me grow to new heights I've been told all my life I'm a soldier who fights Now the flow's so tight, all of my goals are in sight ** [Chorus]** [Verse 3]** Sometimes I feel unstoppable, so motivated Amped up, nothing can ever get in the way of it I'm digging so deep inside to find fuel When I get in touch with it, my rhymes defy rules I'm feeling it,

foreseeing what I can be Like there's a Thousand friends all screaming inside of me And pushing me, so Cale never falls behind I have the strength of a Hundred men all combined Gotta make time, to do what I know best Sit at this desk, let ideas process And watch them unravel, as the writing extends It's natural, thoughts come to life through my pen Animation, when I'm holding the pencil Cale's rhymes always control the instrumental The beat rides me, ain't no filler to kill her Cuz' baby I just keep on getting iller and iller ** [Chorus]**
