[Chorus 2X: Lori Nuic & Cale Sampson singing] It's not time (It's not time) For you to go now (For you to go now) But if it is (But if it is then) I'll live somehow (I'll live somehow) [Verse 1: Cale Sampson] It all happened so quick, I woke up for class Heard a cry from your bedroom, had to act fast Called an ambulance, you couldn't even move Your face was pale white, your lips were turning blue My worst fear ever was close to coming true As long as I remember Ma, it's been just me and you When the paramedics came, they all seemed spooked Didn't know what was wrong, unsure of what to do We put you on a stretcher, then rushed towards The closest hospital for an emergency ward Makes you realize how life is so precious The people we care about should never be neglected Does it have to be now, doesn't feel like it's time You're still a young woman, ain't even past your prime And I'm an only child, now I have to be a man If she's gonna leave, I need to be there to hold her hand And tell her everything she deserves to know How much she's helped me and everybody else grow Mom I'm so thankful for all our conversations That found answers to frustrating complications Anxiety's strong, "am I gonna give in?" Right now, I feel as if I'm not even livin' Moment to moment in constant anticipation Struggling to get through every single situation I'll take the advice, you gave to better my life Because now more than ever, it's time for us to fight This is real life stuff, we'll all go through I'm just lucky this time, somehow my Mom's pulled through [Chorus 2X] [Verse 2: Cale Sampson] My greatest challenge was almost losing my Mom Preparing myself for her to be physically gone What was I to do, my only choice was to face it Even if I run, there's no way I can escape it So whatever happens next, I'll have to try to deal The chances of her death are appearing very real Never seen someone in so much agony or pain Pushed to the very brink of what a human can withstand Such a close call in that hospital hall When you were unattended to, I had to scream out a call And sprint for a doctor, you were losing air quick Shaking uncontrollably, I really thought that was it And a group of surgeons realized they had to operate Immediately cuz' the situation couldn't wait Transferred you to O.R., so they could cut your stomach open And stop that disease from destroying vital organs I remember telling you, our souls will stay connected It's no coincidence in this life they've intersected No matter the outcome, I'm a spread good energy That you've given to me Ma, I won't let fear get the best of me So don't be afraid, there's other people out there Thinking of you right now, transmitting their care You said, "see ya soon Cay's!" then got wheeled away Showed so much bravery, I sensed you'd be okay (because) [Chorus 2X]
