(Skeeter Davis)

Once I walked in fields of clover
That was when you walked by my side
Then you left and love was over
The grass turned brown the clover died.

Once I chase a pretty rainbow
Almost reached that pot of gold
But I could not find the treasure
Without your hand in mine to hold.

Once I thought the world looked rosey
That's when I faced the world with you
Now it seems the color's changin'
From rosey red to lonely blue.

Once I thought life was worth livin'
You made it all worthwhile somehow
Now you're gone and love's gone with you
Once I was living but not now...
