(Harlan Howard)

The birds hush their singing when I'm passing by
And even the flowers just stand there and cry
For they know the reason I have tears in my eyes
They listened while you said goodbye.

The star's has stopped shining the moon hides its face
Cause you said another is taking my place
I guess our creation was better night
And listened while you said goodbye.

You said it's all over and you wished me well
You said find a new love but I never will
For you didn't know my whole world stood still
And listened while you said goodbye.

--- Instrumental ---

You said find a new love but I never will
For you didn't know my whole world stood still
And listened while you said goodbye...
