(Dick Flood)

I want to go where no one knows me
Where I can start my life anew
I want to go where no one knows me
No one will ask me about you.

A cherished friend, a worshiped sweetheart
The oldest story ever told
I trusted you and you deceived me
I have more grief than I can hold.

--- Instrumental ---

I want to go where no one knows me
My soul is sick my heart is sore
I want to go where all are strangers
I don't believe in friends no more.

I want to go where no one knows me
Where I can start my life anew
I want to go where no one knows me
No one will ask me about you...
