(Paul Tannen)

Why so lonely, why is my world in such a spin
Now he's gone and yet I guess I still love him
Why so lonely, why all this misery
I knew it couldn't last, he never belong to me.

If I'd been smart I would have never taken that second chance
He hurt me once before and now he's done it again.

Why so lonely, why is my world in such a spin
Now he's gone and yet I guess I still love him
Why so lonely, why all this misery
I knew it couldn't last, he never belong to me.

Why so lonely, why so lonely?...
