(Sandra Rhodes)

The pillow where you lay your head is there
Lonely memories have taken your place there
And every night you can hear me cry
And I ask why, why, why?

The smile that set my heart aglow
Now smiles at someone else someone else I know
The lips that said I love you now tell me goodbye
And I ask why, why, why?

Why did she steal your love from me
When she knew I needed you so desperately
The boy that touched my heart too low
Is holding someone else that he's meant to love
And I sit alone with the tears in my eyes
Why, why, why?

--- Instrumental ---

Why, why, why, yes I sit alone with the tears in my eyes
Why, why, why?...
