Here's to the summer catch
The friends we always forget
We're fading with the trends
In pursuit of fictional crowds

We always dress to kill
We always try to impress
Just take another step and
Just take another step and

[Chorus: x2]
Tonight I'm alive
I'm armed and ready
I'm armed and ready
Ready for the summertime

The night it feels so young
The gentle breeze through the air
We have no room to breathe
We have no time to spare

My patience running thin
My virtue is my only fear
Won't let it get in my way
Won't let it get in my way

Don't take this away
You can't take this from me, no
This last chance for tonight
One more shot to make it right
