"Truth Be Told"

Those deceitful eyes
They aim to kill
Someone do us a favor

Those hateful minds
They're telling all the lies
Don't deny it, do not deny it

I want to feel whole again
My souls alive but it's being misled
The pieces fall away from being locked together
Let us take our time for we can make this better

I feel it creeping on up and down my spine
The warm breath, cold heavy hearts
Set to overdrive

Body mind in disarray I'm
Feeling numb, trembling
My bones quiver at the sight

I want to feel whole again
My souls alive but it's being misled
The pieces fall away from being locked together
Let us take our time for we can make this better

The truth be told, heavy as stones
