Look at the way we all collide along the winding road, driven to find the one that guides us home
There is a crime, I've come to find, but I'm on my own, sinkin like a stone, with all I know \hat{A} with all I know \hat{A}

Have I waited, waited, too long to find? Was I never good enough for?
You could take back all the pictures, and I'll be drawing
all the lines,
I ain't waiting this time

I tried to run around the sun but I nearly lost my mind, I know you've, cried and cried, for all I've done I will confess to loneliness, at night I die, but the light inside, will always shine

Have I waited, waited, too long to find? Was I never good enough for?
You could take back all the pictures, and I'll be drawing
all the lines,
I ain't waiting this time

Ohhh...

Have I waited, waited, too long to find? Was I never good enough for?
You could take back all the pictures, and I'll be drawing
all the lines,
I ain't waiting this time

Ohhh...
