Screaming in white light, the silence fills your eyes
You're dying to breathe as you drown
You float like it's weightless
Too hollow to face this
The emptiness that surrounds

Falling so high I could not go back to
The places we've been in my mind
Bring me on down, help my feet touch the ground
Bring me back, bring me back

Words left unspoken, have cut deep and open
The thoughts you once had, laid to rest
With each breath you subside, the death of this long ride
Bury your mind, they can't save you yet

Falling so high I could not go back to
The places we've been in my mind
Bring me on down, help my feet touch the ground
Bring me back, bring me back

(Instrumental Bridge)

Falling so high I could not go back to
The places we've been in my mind
Bring me on down, help my feet touch the ground
Bring me back, bring me back
