Grey skies, white lungs
Who's decided
Her moonshine's almost running dry
Would ya take time, steal wine
I can't take this
There's poison in our blood
The setting of the sun

Look at all these lights
We're fading to the night
We're trying to get by
With only love by our side

Who wants attention undivided
Forever take all of mine
Would ya take time, steal wine
I can't fix this this
Move without a sound
With our ears to the ground

Look at all these lights
We're fading to the night
We're trying to get by

Oooh, oooh...
