I just got off of work the sun is shining bright got my paycheck in my left hand and my crotch in the right got a half tank of gas and a girl that likes to laugh and she'd rather read a book then sit around and get trashed next stop, coffee and thai food I'm happy now, only the sky is blue the girls say, "we love you Time" and I say I wanna love you too I hit up the record store say what's up to kool he tells me how satyr's been acting like a fool I tell him I got to go meet my girl at the steak house after that we're gonna go see a movie and make-out hop out the theater get her home before 10 I'ma go home and sleep so I can do it all again

(AwareNess)

I'm feeling so swell

(Time)

I'm feeling so good, everything's going exactly how it should

it's a quarter till nine I rise and shine sitting in my tighty, whitties trying to write a rhyme damn, I'm feeling swell maybe it's the music maybe it's the weather or maybe it was that pill? oh well, time to go get some breakfast then I got to cross getting books and records off my check list theres so many beautiful people out today so I'm walking like hunter S. on my way to Circle K my eyes are dialated and I'm walking with a lean I go home and take a shower cause I just wanna sing I'm happy cause my frowns got drowned in my smiles and my love called me up said she'd be over in a while we go for a nice little walk around denver its the middle of july but we're cooler than december sitting on a park bench soaking in the sunset I pop another pill without one regret we share a couple root beers and laugh between sips I walk her to her home and give a kiss her to lips I skip into my house about a quarter past 10 I'ma go to sleep so I can do it all again

I'm feeling so swell

(Time)

should
