This time goes fast
And now, it's going, it's gone
And what I know, has left me all alone
See now I know that what you see is illusion
And now it's clear that what you feel is real

Why do things have to be this hard?

Every time I fall I feel I can't go on
I move into myself
And then I start to hurt again
There's so much more to see
There's so much more I want to do

As I dance, I hold onto myself while hoping that I'll never let me go
This life, this time my mind is gone
I'm confused, I lose, I bruise hard

Sometimes I feel bad for myself
And how sometimes I can't control me
But I'm fine just going through it
I am fine watch me beat it
Don't tell me that I've changed
Don't tell me it's all the same
When I move it's gunna be you
When I'm through I'm done with you

Why can't I be me?
Why do I feel all this pain?
Nothing I do fits

There's so much more to see
There's so much more I want to be
