"Never Deep"

As deep as this can go
I'm falling down so hard
Your love took me away
I've found the words to say

Now, I'm going on without you
Breathing without you
Nothing feels right anymore it's all undone
I thought this was right, how we felt inside
But I was wrong so wrong

Drained and I can't move
They were frozen I love you's
What did they ever mean?
I should have known that you were gunna leave

Never forget, never give in, never love again
Never say the same words that you said to me
These things should never ever be repeated
What were you thinking when you told me this was love
If it was then where did it go?
