You set me up to the fall. for you. for you. I try and understand why. left me to wallow in my own defeat. put forth the effort to try! but I stood up on my own two feet. I'm making headway this time. I failed once but I learned so much. a failure in my own mind. I hate the way things have to be. but at least I try to do something at least. I question you with every twist and turn I make. I'm always criticized. but I stood up on my own two feet. I'm making headway this time. I failed once but I learned so much. a failure in my own mind. you set me up to the fall. for you. for you. I try and understand why. left me to wallow in my own defeat. put forth the effort to try! but I stood up on my own two feet. I'm making headway this time. I failed once but I learned so much. a failure in my own mind.
