Just looking for something is what to say
keep looking at nothing
to go away
you take my picture
a portrait prize
behind my image
your father's eyes

just looking for something (4x)

NOW

it looks like something
from far away
inside the image grows and makes the shadow fade behind the image posted on your wall a crack is hiding fighting for it all
just looking for something (4x)

we've taken it somewhere
from far away
the voices echo
from yesterday
behind the crack behind the image on the wall I see you curled up tightly hiding from it all

just looking for something (8x)
