"Weight Of The World"

Don't let the weight of the world drag you down
Keep your head up high and stand your ground
If you're feeling used, broken and abused
Don't let the weight of the world drag you down

Don't let the weight of the world
Drag you down
Stand your ground
Stand up

Something's wrong
With the world today
We're burning out
And I don't know why

Broken backs
And broken dreams
Every time I turn around
That's all I see

I know by the look in her eyes
That we've still got some fight

Don't let the weight of the world
Drag you down
Stand your ground
Stand up

If the answer lied
In the ground we stand
I'd dig it up
With my own two hands

A little love
And honesty
Has got to be
The remedy
That'll set us free

I know by the look in her eyes
That we've still got some fight

Don't let the weight of the world
Drag you down
Stand your ground
Stand up
