The sky fell to earth
I watched it silently
I bridged my teeth with the lack
Of excitement
It was the start of something
Anything
And I knew it was over.
In that moment,
My life became irrelevant
I quenched my fists
I bit the bullet
I swallowed my pride
I breathed in, then released
Animalistic, oh indifference
It's coming to an end
Congregation gather here
It' what I'm waiting for,
Open doors, baby
Congregation she'd a tear
Is it the thought that counts
And nothing else?
Congregation won't you bare?
I've lost myself on rusted shelves
Congregation have no fear
Here's what I'm losing when there's Nothing left to give.
Animalistic, oh indifference.
Animalistic
