My God
What am I doing here! ?
What the hell am I thinking?
Well, it's not so clear
It's not so clear

You lay next to me
And you look in my eyes
Well, I'll try to forgive
It just depends on the night
I can't provide what was
Never out there
We sleep restlessly through
The middle of our lives and
Count all the stars like
We're ever gonna' fly
I can't rely on your sweet ambition

We teach kids not to play with fire
And we teach them how to pray
On their knees
We teach sons how to marry
Our daughters
And we teach sons how to
Spread their seeds
Oh lord, this is absolutely revolting
And at the same time I find it hilarious.

You lay next to me
And you look in my eyes
Well, I'll try to forgive
It just depends on the night
I can't provide what was
Never out there
We sleep restlessly through
The middle of our lives and
Count all the stars like
We're ever gonna' fly
I can't rely on your sweet ambition

God please pluck her teeth out

I know it's sick to say,
I know I've gone a stray
God please pluck her teeth out
'Cause this will never end nor ever go away
She'll never see unless you sway

I believe that I've gotten this all wrong
And I can not pretend,
I'd never hear the end of it

You lay next to me
And you look in my eyes
Never out there
