

Andain

"Find Your Way"

Visit "Find Your Way" on MotoLyrics.com

Open my eyes for the first time
I missed the part of you that makes this hurt
Take all the sound out of your voice
I missed the part of you that make this worse

Trying to tell you that I had to leave
But you weren't listening, you couldn't see
That tearing me down to everyone kept wearing me out
We'd have to change that you never could see
But instead you created a world that you wanna see
Keeps you around to pretend to a friend
What we use to be

So find your way to the soul
Find your way to be free
And when your holding on to the feeling
Yeah you'll find your way, find it away from me

Open inside for the last time
I took the part of me that you could hurt
Take all the noise out of your choice
I took the part of me that makes this worse

Trying to tell you that I had to leave
But you weren't listening, you couldn't see
That tearing me down to everyone kept wearing me out
We'd have to change that you never could see
But instead you created a world that you wanna see
Keeps you around to pretend to a friend
What we use to be

(x2)
So find your way to the soul
find your way to be free
and when your holding on to the feeling
yeah you'll find your way, find it away from me

(x3)
Find your way, find it away from me

