A foolish king
Wears the crown of the king before him
Under careless skies
We ran away to the streets of Berlin
We both played our part
As the madness eroded my heart
And we swing swing swing
To the songs that the cover band sing sing sing

Only hurt
Will remain
When love is just a game
I walk out of the fire and into the flame
For you
Love is just a game

My oh my
In the glare of a million eyes
In the road you cry
As the crickets call into the night
Such a stupid girl hanging on to the edge of the world
Calling love love love
Can't you see what you've done to us

Only hurt
Will remain
When love is just a game
Empty words
Said in vain
When love is just a game
I walk out of the fire and into the flame
For you
Only you stay the same

An ode to joy
A road to love
A note to keep your head above
The rising tide's not yet a flood on this shore
The bird, the bee, the curtain call
The greatest show to end them all
A universal rise and fall

Oh oh oh
The road is long when you walk alone
Oh oh oh

An ode to joy
A road to love
A note to keep your head above
The rising tide's not yet a flood
Come on baby
Come on baby
Let's cry a little
Come on baby
Come on baby
Come on baby
Come on baby
Come on baby
Let's cry a little
Come on baby
Come on baby
Come on baby
Let's cry a little
Come on baby
Come on baby
