Hold on
To the edge of the world
To end of the rope
With a heart full of hope
I can't look when I see you online
Thinking how you were mine
And who's on your mind
So I run
To the carnival lights
Where the white horses ride
To the songs in the night

I hear a melody from signals in the sky
Under the covers where the wires intertwine
Come with me honey to the colours in your mind
Science and satellites keep Saturn fill the sky
Over the town our stars collide
Where's the sun gone from her eyes
Oh I'll take you back to Menwith Hill

One million hearts in a line
And all they do is cry
As the moon multiplies
And what's dead
When you got ghosts inside your head
And the band starts to pound
To the old gospel sound

I hear a melody from signals in the sky
Under the covers where our wires intertwine
Come with me honey to the colours in your mind
Science and satellites keep Saturn fill the sky
Over the town our stars collide
Where's the sun gone from your eyes

Oh I'll take you down
To where the world
Don't make no sound
Oh honey I was blind
To keep counting
To the end of time

To the end of time

(Is everything gonna be OK?)

I listened to love

I listened to love...
