Aw shit
You're talking way too slow,
You're talking way too slow, kid
Let's run our mouths till they're broken
You're talking awfully slow,
You're talking way too slow, dear
Just close your mouth, and notice
It's just the way I think
Guess it's the way I speak
Let's make a toast, for all us
All those flashing lights
They couldn't phase me like
She could, she could
Oh all those flashing lights they never phased me like,
She could, she could

Yeah, I couldn't hope for more, I couldn't hope for more
Cause now she's standing at my door
I think I got this right, I finally got one right
Yeah, for the first time in my life
It's just the way I think,
Guess it's the way I speak, yeah
Let's make a toast, for all us
All those flashing lights
They couldn't phase me
Like she could, she could
Oh all those flashing lights they never phased me like,
She could, she could
I guess those city lights never burned as bright
She could, She could
Oh all those flashing lights they never phased me like,
She could, she could

So now I'm the one with the problem
Too many words in my mouth, handgun
Let's hope that she's got some value
I'm talking dollars, I'm talking decimals
That's too much
She's like a mess, and I guess it feels right
We'll run our mouths, run our mouths, all night

Oh all those flashing lights they couldn't phase me like,
She could, she could
Oh all those flashing lights they never phased me like,
She could, she could
I guess those city lights never burned as bright,
She could, she could
All of those flashing lights, they'll never phase me
She could, she could
