The first time i thought about leavin
Was the last time i made her cry
I talked myself out of believin
That true true love never dies

First time i thought of returnin
Was just 10 lonesome miles out of town
My foolish pride kept these wheels a turnin
There was nothin on this earth gonna shut me down

If i had one drop of water
For each and every tear i have cried
I'd sail back to her on an ocean of sorrow
True true love never dies

The fire of angers turned to ashes
You know pride will forsake you by and by
The lonest night surely passes
And true true love never dies

If i had one drop of water
For each and every tear i have cried
I'd sail back to her on an ocean of sorrow
True true love never dies

If i had one drop of water
For each and every tear i have cried
I'd sail back to her on an ocean of sorrow
True true love never dies

I'd sail back to her
On an ocean of sorrow
True true love never dies
