"Count Back"

Count back a hundred years, before you lived to be a man.
Count back a hundred years, and roll the backs of your eyes.
It's going very fast, and still you won't stop.
It's going very fast, and still you won't stop.
Count back a thousand years, before you lived to be a man.
Crawl in the fireplace, and you can always be erased.
It's going very fast, and still you won't stop.
It's going very fast, and still you won't stop.
Count back a million years, eight hours on a dirty floor.
Count back a million years, and you are in reverse.
It's going very fast, and still you won't stop.
It's going very fast, and still you won't stop.
And still you won't stop [x4]
