No one else knows my secrets
I tell only you
I hope you'll keep them locked inside forever

But I have got no claim on you
And you'll do what you like
When I am just a distant memory

Bear with me if my mind start wandering
And I say things that don't make too much sense

But you are my candle
You are my candle
In my current circumstance

Sunday afternoon
Talking in my room
But you have got that look again
Like you've had enough
And you'll say
You want to go home
