Cold blooded ignorance, in a state of social decay
Your self indulgence, will leave us all left in the wake
Now your branded, as a liar
Reprimanded, now a heretic
Why, why do we believe everything we see
I refuse to be a servant
Your time now has come to pass
Your life through the looking glass
Selfishness will end us all
Death is inevitable
Self-righteousness brings us pain
Our minds now filled with disdain Equality is dead, because we ignore the voice in our head
Brought us far beyond return forever damned unto what we have learned
Who will save you now?
Why do we believe everything we sww
I refuse to be a servant.
