Whenever you're close to me, I feel a trembling inside
And then you approached me that day, suddenly a piece of mind
But I don't want to leave
I'm not worthy of this higher being in the life
I'm truly, holy, but I know I'm confined to this ground
Invisible life
Whenever the ??? my reality melts away
I'm turning on the TV screen
It appears we're all ok
But I don't want to leave
I'm not worthy of this higher being in the life
I'm truly holy, but I know, I'm confined to this ground Cause I can hear this humble silence creeping to my house
I know it feels like coming home
But I can't go this time
I'm taking my own chances to find truth between the lies
Its kinda like just what it is
So I've got to try
Cause I can hear this humble silence
Creeping in your house
I know it feels like coming home but I can't go this time
I'm not worthy of this highness, feeling in the life
I'm truly holy, but I know I'm confined to this ground
Cause I can hear this humble silence creeping to my
house
I know it feels like coming home
But I can't go this time
Invisible life
