

The Double Quartet

"Tell Me Something"

Visit "Tell Me Something" on MotoLyrics.com

The day slowly awakens as my head is turning bright
The darkness is forsaken and there's hours left til night
I stood outside your window with a bucket full of rain
Times have changed and you have changed
While nothing stays the same

Why don't you tell me something? tell me something!
Tell me something I don't know!

Jackhammers and diamondrings couldn't break into your shell
I even tried to flip a coin into a magic wishing well
The scabs are getting even and the hour is getting dark
The dogs are howling at the moon
And if you knew what they said we could talk

Why don't you tell me something? tell me something!
Tell me something I don't know!

Do you cross your fingers and run? do you try to avoid
This kind of question? is it time and time again?
Is it time again? honey won't you let me in?

Visit The Double Quartet page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.