I fought myself
as i walked away stopping myself from looking back then i realized
my dream have just died

I yelled and i cried finding myself with none to blame and trying to hide this terrible pain

Now that time flew away i see you again the bright in your eyes reminds me of that day but you are not the reason why i came and i won't let you bring me down again

I gave u all i had, no complaints and i don't regret the times that we spent looking at you brings tears to my eyes i've always been scared of this day when this terrible pain will kick back again
