I trusted you for a long time
But You were out there running round
I didn't know until this moment
That I was just another clown
Everybody said you were deceiving me
The truth is plain for all to see
But I just went right on believing you
When no one else believed but me
I'll always be your fool
I'll always be your fool
When my best friends see me
I just turn my head away
But until the day you free me
This is all I've got to say
I'll always be your fool
I'll always be your fool
See the candle slowly burning
And it's burning for you
Burning for you
Burning for your love
I'll always be your fool
I'll always be your fool
