It comes at you from both ends
The narrowing splinter
Of fading Life
What comes of a fear so infinite
In harrowing nights
Of The Howling Dark
It festers Inside your shadow
Everpresent and overpowering
This sickly fascination
Has become the last addiction

The struggle continues
With the detachment of life
Through proxy
Life has stepped back
From a body in constant motion
The shadows seen through
Transparent skin
An apparition deep in those eyes
So close you can taste it
But is this all all you could ask for?

Lay down your life
The Power of death commands you
The ultimate Lie
The Power of death commands you
Give in to the deal
Become one with the Shadow

It comes at you from both ends
The narrowing splinter
Of fading Life
What comes of a fear so infinite
In harrowing nights
Of The Howling Dark
It festers Inside your shadow
Everpresent and overpowering
This sickly fascination
Has become the last addiction

The struggle continues

Life has stepped back
Transparent skin
So close you can taste it

The struggle continues
With the detachment of life
Through proxy
Life has stepped back
From a body in constant motion
The shadows seen through
Transparent skin
An apparition deep in those eyes
So close you can taste it
But is this all all you could ask for?

Lay down your life
The ultimate Lie
