It's all under control
Eight days in a row let it go
You know we have all been here before way back when
How do you define this?
What do you believe is going wrong?
How do I confront this?
What do I tell them now?
Please don't take this all wrong
I know it's so hard to be strong
Stand back and look at your life
Stop stalling and make things right
You just gotta stop this
Do it for yourself if no one else
You just gotta stop this
You're putting yourself through hell
I know you're putting yourself through hell
