"Dogpile"

Slowed down but I haven't quit
Can't rest when nothing is permanent
Came by but no one was home

You took your mattress into the forest
And let it burn down until they found you
And when you came back no one could see it
Had turned your hands black
Ain't life a strange trip

So let's drag we're growing up fast
We'll crash out and let it all pass
Dogpile under the water

And I know how you like your thoughts loud
So I make everyone turn their heads down
And we get dressed up so we can stay in Feelin expensive to drink the cheap shit

Sick in love but I don't want out
I finally found someone who lets me slip
Ain't life a strange trip
