How many times did we fall down?
How many times did we get up?
How many times we swore we'd change
But we fell just short of "Us"
We fell just short of "Us"

I remember your face
I remember the tears you cried
I remember your heart and all it kept inside

How many words we did not say
How many words we did not mean
How many words we meant to say
But they fell just short of "Us"
They just fell just short of "Us"

I remember your face
I remember the tears you cried
I remember your heart and all it kept inside
I remember your touch
I remember your skin on mine
I remember what was
Some love you can't deny

How many dreams we thought we'd share
How many dreams we both messed up
Baby I don't know the reasons
But they fell just short of "Us"
They fell just short of "Us"

I remember your face
I remember the tears you cried
I remember your heart and all it kept inside
I remember your touch
I remember your skin on mine
I remember what was
Some love you can't deny
Some love you can't deny
