You made your choice
Now you regret it, it's killing you but things are different
Something tells me
That this won't be the last time that i need to take some space

When your hands touch mine, my heart jumps
I thought those days had come and gone
But i can see through you
And remember how it was

Sit in silence
Why can't you just say something to break the tension
Yeah you made this awkward
And yes i see it
Sometimes i feel things are better left unsaid

When your hands touch mine, my heart jumps
I thought those days had come and gone
But i' can see through you
And remember how it was

But i see through you
And remember how it was [x2]

And i can see this coming (whoa)
And i think i'll be leaving (whoa)
[x2]
