

The Front Bottoms

"I Dislocated My Shoulder For Rock And Roll"

Visit "I Dislocated My Shoulder For Rock And Roll" on MotoLyrics.com

Can you feel? it's changing as we speak from bad to worse. A once beautiful love is crumbling at our feet but don't inhale the dust. Because the love that's in the air is choking us. Im unprepared to face a world that can be deadly on my own without you there. I'd hoped I'd never see this day but now on and on it goes, can you feel me breaking? the next step is to walk away feeling smarter than before we wound up here. A sudden sympathy has befallen and forced to the ground. IT paralyzes me and makes it hard to breathe - it pins me down. I can't bear going through this all again but it's for the best, you'll see. I'd hoped I'd never see this day but now on and on it goes, can you feel me breaking? the next step is to walk away feeling smarter than before we wound up here. it's for the best you'll see. Maybe not now but someday.

Visit The Front Bottoms page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.