The last time we spoke, you left in tears. This time it's not me, but i think you fear an uncertain future, where everythings new, you need a shoulder and im here for you. Talk in circles then talk back. Say what you feel and don't hold back. I can't understand what's wrong, i haven't seen you smile for so long. Distance grows and distance fades. Serious problems can't seem to escape. Frustrated with trying and hoping for change. You can't see what you want and your quick to blame. Im burning up from the inside out, there's nothing left to be talked about. Fights over phone calls are never resolved, problems are caused by wills too small. Talk in circles then talk back. Say what you feel and don't hold back. I can't understand what's wrong, i haven't seen you smile for so long. Holding onto nothing for you. Talk in circles then talk back. Say what you feel and don't hold back. I can't understand what's wrong, i haven't seen you smile for so long.
