I saw you got what you wanted
I saw you got what you need
I watched you take it from me
I'll cut you fuckin' deep you traitor!

Is there a quote in time
That I can draw from here?
Stuck in a narrow mind
You're counting on belial

Don't die too soon
There's so much to show you
Bone's in the dirt
I will send you to God

Don't die too soon
There's so much to show you
Shedding your skin
Disguise wearing thin

Come on there's no faking this
Get into the pit
You've had your last chance to deny
The fires that purge the grass
Through which you slither

No allies here
No friend of mine you traitor!

Is there a quote in time
That I can draw from here?
Stuck in a narrow mind
You're counting on belial

Don't die too soon
There's so much to show you
Bone's in the dirt
I will send you to God

Don't die too soon
There's so much to show you

Shedding your skin
Disguise wearing thin

I'm tired
Of running
And hiding
From you

I watched you break through me
As if my bones were glass
Well things have changed
Stone heart inside

I watched you break through me
As if my bones were glass
Well things have changed
Stone heart inside

Know all about me
As I drift like a ghost
Reality haunts me the most

You talk about me
As if my body's too weak
As if I'm fast asleep

Four walls surrounding you
Not a chance of getting through

Peace
Rest within your Niche
Not a thing that I can do

Sleep

Peace

Wrong
You couldn't be more wrong
I'm coming for you
And you will learn

Don't die too soon
I've such sights to show you
The stars of the earth against a God

Don't die too soon
There's so much to show you

Don't die too soon
There's so much to show you
