I was standing on the dancefloor and a pretty thing caught my eye She was looking at me, smiling at me and now shes dancing with me So I must be pretty, if I'm standing here with people like you
I must be pretty, like you

We departed the dancefloor and we fought our way to the bar
I had just enough for her wine
So I bought a drink, she necked it down lit up a cigarette and blew smoke in my eye and I started to cry, and she laughed in my face

Please tell me, where are my friends when I need them now? haha
Where are my friends when I'm alone

I've got a feeling for the dancefloor, cause there playing my favourite song Theres such a buzz about this place
Wait a minute, all my friends have gone

Where are my friends, when I need them now? haha Where are my friends when I'm alone in the night time?
in the night time

alone in the night time
please tell me how do I get home?

How will I find love tonight in a loveless city?

It's must be getting near closing time so dont turn on the lights This night is young, as we are We're not ready to go and now your standing on the streetside and your sweat will turn to ice and all your moneys gone cause you spent it all on that stupid fucking girl

Oh where are my friends, when I need them now? haha
Where are my friends when I'm alone in the night time?
in the night time
alone in the night time
Please tell me how will I get home
I'm so alone, in the night time in the night time, alone in the night time
please tell me how will I get home
how will I get home tonight?
I havent got no money and how will I find love love love love love in a loveless city?
