I've been deserted too many times
I'm beginning to think it's a sign
I'm leaving ton with the remnants of sounds that we've made
To see what I find

This is for the changes I wasted
This is for the pills that I've tasted
To chase away doubt in my mind
With a plague inside

This is farewell, this is farewell
This is farewell & goodbye

Have I been to selfless for my own good
Or am I self-obsessed to the core
I feel overbearing and misunderstood in your eyes
But I won't anymore

This is for my angst and frustration
This is for the years that I have this
So patiently wasting my time
With no end in sight
