Well your eyes told me that you're leaving
Darling it feels like a tragedy
I can't believe you turned your back on me
No rewards no guarantee

It gets harder just to face the day
But I won't waste my energy - no

There ain't no use in complaining
Without ya I've got nothing left to lose

Time will mend this heart of sorrow
I just might find somebody new
But in my heart I still feel the pain
After all that we've been through

Slow down take a look at yourself
Is this who you want to be? No, No

There ain't no use in complaining
Without you I've got nothing left to lose
There ain't no use, these ain't no use in complaining
Without you I've got nothing
Without you I've got nothin' left to lose
