It's hard to stay up
It's been a long, long day
And you've got the sandman at your door
But hang on, leave the TV on
And let's do it anyway

It's okay
You can always sleep through the world tomorrow
Hey! Hey, hey
Tomorrow's just your future yesterday

Tear the clock off the wall
Forget the wakeup call
Cause the nights not nearly through
Knock the sleep from your eyes
Give yourself a surprise
Let your worries wait another day
And if you stayed too late at the bar
And if you made it out this far
So make up your mind
And say "lets do it anyway"

It's okay
You can always sleep through the world tomorrow
Hey! Hey, hey
Tomorrow's just your future yesterday

Life's too short to worry about
The things that you can live without
And I regret to say
The morning light is hours away

The world can be such a fright
But it belongs to us tonight
What's the point in going to bed
You look so lovely when your eyes are red

Tomorrow's just your future yesterday

The world can be such a fright
But it belongs to us tonight

What's the point in going to bed
You look so lovely when your eyes are red

It's hard to stay up
It's been a long, long day
And you've got the sandman at your door
But hang on, leave the TV on
And let's do it anyway

It's okay
You can always sleep through the world tomorrow
Hey! Hey, hey
Tomorrow's just your future yesterday
Tomorrow's just your future yesterday
